MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER

Doug Ford, Premier

I'm so pleased to extend warm greetings to everyone taking part in the 2022 International Plowing Match and Rural Expo.

I have nothing but the greatest respect for Ontario's farmers and everyone working in our agricultural sector. Your hard work and enterprise support thousands of jobs, promote vibrant rural communities, and provide us with good, locally grown food.

I thank the Ontario Plowmen's Association for organizing this much-awaited event. Our government recognizes that our agri-food sector is crucial to Ontario's growth and prosperity. We're working hard to strengthen the agriculture industry, stand up for farm jobs, promote local products and tell the world that Ontario is open for business, open for jobs. We will continue to make strategic investments that position Ontario's agri-food sector for success — now and in the future.

Have a great time at this year's plowing match!

MESSAGE FROM THE IPM 2022 LOCAL COMMITTEE CHAIR

As Local Committee Chair of IPM 2022, I join with the Board of Directors, Committee Chairs, and volunteers in welcoming you to this year's International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM). IPM 2022 is being held on the grounds of Kemptville Campus in the municipality of North Grenville in the United Counties of Leeds-Grenville. I am humbled and honoured to be serving as Chair of the Local Committee, it is a once in a lifetime opportunity. Leeds-Grenville and North Grenville is a beautiful area of agricultural land, lakes, and rivers. The Rideau Canal flows through the area and the area itself is a UNESCO Heritage site. Many historic villages and towns in the welcome guests with quaint shops and historic buildings.

Our theme is "A Community Showcase of Agricultural & Rural Living: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow". There will be both a Counties Showcase and a Municipal Showcase for everyone to learn more about the diverse attractions in Leeds-Grenville. The Tented City, RV Park, and parking fields are all on the former Kemptville College land which is now owned by North Grenville and managed by the Kemptville Campus Board. I'm hoping that many Kemptville College Alumni will attend this year's IPM to renew old acquaintances and enjoy some social time. Competition Plowing will be hosted by Rideauside Farms (Charles & Rosemary Bennett and Family) approximately 8 km west of Kemptville on County Rd 43; they have graciously offered IPM 2022 a large field that is sandy loam with few stones.

The Canadian Armed Forces Skyhawks Parachute Team will be performing at this year's IPM along with other favourites like the Dodge Ram Rodeo and the Canadian Cowgirls Precision Drill Team. Our daily entertainment lineup is second to none and there's something for everyone.

Our anticipated success is due to the enthusiasm of our large volunteer base, the hard work of our Board and Committee members, and the fantastic support from the Municipal and Public Works staff of North Grenville and the United Counties of Leeds-Grenville. Everyone went above and beyond and in doing so made big jobs seem small. We are also grateful for the support of the OPA staff and Board, they have been a valuable resource for our many questions. We are very grateful for the support of our sponsors across Leeds-Grenville because without their generous financial support our goal of returning money back into the community becomes very difficult.

Once again, I am honoured as Local Committee Chair to welcome you to IPM 2022. Please take the time to visit different shops and services in the area, support our local merchants, and learn more about North Grenville and the United Counties of Leeds-Grenville. I hope everyone will come out and enjoy themselves, renewing old acquaintances and making new friends. Who knows, you may even enjoy yourself so much that you come back to the area for future visits!

A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR OF NORTH GRENVILLE

On behalf of Council, I would like to extend a warm welcome to the Municipality of North Grenville.

We are so thrilled to be the host community for the 2022 International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM) and wish to thank the local organizing committee who - alongside hundreds of volunteers - have made this event a reality!

As you likely know, the IPM has become North America's largest outdoor agricultural and rural expo in North America since its inception over 100 years ago.

Partly located on the historic grounds of the Kemptville Campus now owned by the Municipality, there are 630 acres of woodlands, croplands, green houses, sugar bush, as well as local businesses and schools. For over 100 years, Kemptville College delivered leading edge agricultural and related training in this very location.

A brilliant blend of urban and rural charm, the Municipality of North Grenville is comprised of the Town of Kemptville and several rural hamlets, including Oxford Mills, Oxford Station, Bishop's Mills, Burritt's Rapids, Heckston and Peltons Corners.

While here, take advantage of the over 50 restaurants, cafes, bakeries and food trucks - plus unique boutiques, retail stores and farm gates.

North Grenville was recently crowned Ontario's Most Active Community with hundreds of kilometres of trails at the Campus, Ferguson Forest Centre and throughout Limerick Forest. Explore the Rideau Canal locks at Burritt's Rapids or check out the South Brach of the Rideau River, Kemptville Creek, that flows through the heart of downtown Kemptville. We hope you have an unforgettable experience in North Grenville. We're so glad you're here!

Sincerely,
Mayor Nancy Peckford

A FEW OF THE HIGHLIGHTS OF 2022 IPM

Amber Marshall

The 2022 International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM) is pleased to welcome Canadian actress Amber Marshall. Amber will be showing off that star power as she co-MCs the Rodeo on Saturday! Amber is known for her excellent work as Amy Fleming in the Canadian classic, 'Heartland,' which saw her win Canada's Screen Star in 2013.

Hunter Brothers

We are thrilled to welcome the Canadian country group Hunter Brothers. This group combines smooth vocals and pop influence to create a sound that just feels immersive and has you swaying along. The Hunter Brothers have received many accolades including over a dozen national nominations and a dozen provincial awards for their work. Come out to see this high-powered group own the stage!

Drill Team

The 2022 IPM will be hosting the Canadian Cowgirls Rodeo Drill Team. This unique group (who hail from Chatham-Kent, Ontario!) does coordinated formations, precision movement, and dangerous & daring manoeuvres all while on horseback. They are known to dazzle viewers worldwide as they are the only Canadian ever to be invited to the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, CA and have also acted as Honour Guard for Charles, Prince of Wales and Camilla, Duchess of Cornwall.

Mudmen

The IPM will be hosting Canada's Celtic Rock Warriors! The Mudmen combine rock, bagpipes, and Celtic influence for an energetic and unique sound that will have you dancing whether you were planning to or not. This fun, hard-hitting, Canadian group has quite the list of events including Special Olympics Opening Ceremonies, 7 Grey Cups, and 3 Briers; the IPM is excited to be added to this list.

SkyHawks

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it is the Canadian Armed Forces Parachute Team, the SkyHawks! This talented and professional squad perform highly technical and daring parachute manoeuvres as a unit. The SkyHawks perform at sporting events, air shows, and festivals across Canada. Be ready to be amazed as this team flies through the sky before our very eyes.

Rodeo

The RAM Rodeo is a classic and long-time fan favourite of the IPM. Fans will be holding their breath and jumping with excitement as the talented compete in events such as barrel-racing, bucking broncos, and the dangerous, yet thrilling, bull riding competitions. And to add even more excitement to this thrilling event, the RAM Rodeo results are counted toward the Rodeo Tour so every lasso, buck, and bronc comes with very high stakes!

Harvex Agricultural Tent

Visitors to the Agricultural Tent will find a mix of agriculture-related vendors and service providers. Both local and regional displays create a wonderful backdrop for our Tailgate Talk lecture series – see the tent for topics and times.

Once again, the Agricultural Tent will showcase the Enviro-Farm. A scale model farming operation that showcases several environmentally sustainable techniques currently in use in agriculture.

The Ottawa Valley Seed growers are celebrating the Eastern inductees to the Canadian Agricultural Hall of Fame. During the IPM the inductees' photos and bios will be displayed in the Harvex Agriculture Tent to honour these local pioneers of agriculture.

BMO CELEBRATES 10 YEARS OF GIVING BACK TO FARMERS

By Leslie Stewart

This year's International Plowing Match & Rural Expo (IPM), taking place in Kemptville, is a special one for the BMO Ontario Farm Family Awards – it's their 10th anniversary.

This year, BMO will once again team up with the Ontario Plowmen's Association (OPA) to acknowledge 13 new families for their involvement in their communities, land stewardship, sustainability, and continually evolving farm management practices.

"For many years, BMO has been a proud supporter of the Canadian agriculture community and the BMO Farm Family Awards," says Senior Vice-President & National Head Agriculture, BMO, Lynda Taylor.

"It is evident that all of the families recognized share the same passion, strong business acumen and build on generational knowledge which allows agricultural communities across the country to thrive."

Awards are handed out to hard-working families each year. The families are nominated by their friends, family, or other members of the community online and are chosen by an anonymous panel of five judges. This panel is a mixture of BMO and OPA representatives, with another agricultural industry leader.

"Ontario's farm families contribute to their community and to the province in so many significant ways," says Cathy Lasby, Executive Director of the OPA. "They uphold the traditions of the past while strengthening Ontario's economic growth. It is truly an honour to recognize them."

Since 2012, 83 families have been honoured since the BMO Farm Family Awards

The BMO Ontario Farm Family Awards formally recognize farm families for their dedication to Ontario's agriculture sector, and the rural way of life. The awards presentation is set for the Main Stage on Saturday, Sept. 24.

began. Honourees get to enjoy a day at the IPM with a complimentary lunch. They also receive a family photo shoot and a commemorative sign to hang on their farm gate.

KEMPTVILLE CAMPUS: A THRIVING HUB

A community nexus rooted in agriculture

By Leslie Stewart

Kemptville Campus is excited to welcome the International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM), who have leased the space for the event this year. This historic 626-acre property is home to 17 buildings, woodlands, cropland, wetland, green space and green houses, an agro-forestry centre, maple bush, and trails.

The Municipality of North Grenville purchased the Campus from the Agricultural Research Institute of Ontario in 2018. Since then, the Campus has become a thriving community hub and educational centre.

North Grenville Mayor Nancy Peckford was instrumental in the purchase of the land and an enthusiastic advocate for the campus. She served as interim chair of the board in her capacity as mayor before passing the torch to Karen Cooper and an independently run board.

"It's an incredible asset to have 626 acres, and our vision for the Campus is to support the agricultural sector and its diversity in Eastern Ontario," Peckford explains. "The campus remains a hub for educational training, and it's a community space that can be well-utilized in our city and beyond."

"Campus stakeholders have done a tremendous job of pivoting from the time of closure, and they've reinvented themselves," says former executive director and project manager Patricia Remillard.

"This is a really exciting juncture," Remillard says. "As we've evolved into an education and community centre with very specific objectives, I think we're at a point where the campus is gaining some serious traction and securing its future. There's a strong chair, strong executive director... everyone is committed to the project moving forward."

Agricultural Land, Dickinson Trail - Kemptville Campus

Liz Sutherland was named the current executive director of Kemptville Campus on Jan. 10, 2022. Sutherland has 25 years of experience working with policy and programs in the non-profit and public sectors and will lead the development of business, strategic, operational, educational, funding, and communication plans for the Campus.

Kemptville Campus is a place for families to learn and grow. Some 500 children attend school on site between four major school districts – English, French, Catholic, and public. There are three daycares on site, a mixture of for-profit and not-for-profit government agencies, and facilities for applied research.

The campus adheres to the site's strong agricultural history and offers a variety of ways to learn about farming.

"We want to support experiential awareness and exposure learning for the younger grades," Remillard says. "We support special ag, environment, food, horticulture, forestry, and other innovation programs. For post-secondary students, we expand apprenticeship opportunities within the region. We started this with a special diesel and mechanic apprenticeship program."

"This is a way for Kemptville Campus to offer crucial agricultural training that's so important to the region and to the industry overall," Peckford adds.

"The campus, admin, board, and municipality are all deeply committed to supporting agriculture just as the campus has done for the past 100 years," Remillard says. "Realizing the vision for the agri-food ecosystem in addition to our four-board collaboration gives us a unique opportunity to ensure students are aware of where their food comes from and offer them the availability to participate in awareness, entrepreneurship, and innovation programs. We hope this will ignite and excite their future in agri-food."

The campus is a site for a variety of events that bring the community together and empower local businesses.

"Since we've taken over the space, it's been the site of a very large music festival (Kemptville Live) and we host several different community events. We hosted a number of night markets where local food producers and 100s of people from around Eastern Ontario could sell in a COVID-safe environment," Peckford explains. "The old cafeteria was taken over by a local caterer. She hosts weddings, conferences, and many other regional and community events, and she's able to feature a bunch of local products and foods."

Sutherland holds a B.A. (Hons.) from Trent University and a M.A. from University of Victoria. Originally raised in the Nepean-Ottawa-area, Sutherland is happy to be back in Eastern Ontario.

Since 2018, several of the campus's natural resources and trails have been restored for visitors to enjoy.

"We recognized how important it was to re-open the trails that had fallen dormant," Peckford says. "They've been re-signed and actively maintained in partnership with some of the organizers of Kemptville Live. We were able to host Maple Fest at the sugarbush and invited people to see how reverse osmosis worked and how maple syrup was produced."

Kemptville College is pleased to be welcoming the IPM, with Peckford referring to having the event as a "once-in-a-lifetime opportunity." Some 700 volunteers have been working hard to prepare the city for the show.

"We want to give everyone the warmest welcome. Our beautification contest is going very well across private and commercial properties, and we've printed 500 lawn signs to say 'North Grenville welcomes the IPM to Kemptville College.'"

"There's a lot to look forward to and a lot of excitement in our community," Peckford says. "We're very proud and excited – having the IPM takes the cake in creating this momentum for our campus!"

LIVE EVENTS POST-COVID

By Derek Govier

As an event we must also account for the people's desire for things such as increased sanitizers and mask availability which must be factored into the logistical plan of any high-quality event.

COVID is a topic that everyone is tired of – but while we are tired, it affects us all as we move forward, and events are no different. It's been a wild few years for everyone and it's both changed the world and made the world the same as it always was. Running events post-COVID brings with it both challenges and advantages to the event scene; what truly makes or breaks any industry is how said industry grows and adapts to the ever-changing world.

One of the many changes that COVID has brought to the world of Ag trade shows is an increase in online ticket sales. Traditionally agriculture shows and similar events have been cash-at-the-door events. COVID presented not only an opportunity but a necessity for shows to use digital ticketing. Ontario Plowmen's Association Marketing Co-Ordinator Virginia Govier says, "the diverse audience that The International Plowing Match & Rural Expo (IPM) had convinced us early on that a digital ticketing program was key. The IPM has had online tickets for several years and have been accepting debit and credit at the gates since 2016, so we were well positioned for the increased interest in online sales.” The result has become a major advantage as lines can now move more quickly and people can purchase tickets at their leisure and in their preferred method.

With the changes and advantages there are also challenges. Even with the world returning to normal, or at least a new normal, the trade show industry must remain health and regulation conscious. While this is obviously important regardless of a pandemic having ever-fluid regulations means event organizers must remain prudent to abide by all local and national regulations. As an event we must also account for the people’s desire for things such as increased sanitizers and mask availability which must be factored into the logistical plan of any high-quality event.

In her blog post It’s Time for A Trade Show 101 Refresher Course, Jo-Ann McArthur reminds exhibitors “to plan ahead, bring samples, and actively engage with show attendees” because while the extra logistical planning does require more work hours it all works out in the end as the biggest advantage in a post-COVID world is the public’s want and need to get out, socialize, and see the world around them. Combining this increased desire for interaction with an increased role by sponsors and exhibitors you get a symbiotic relationship that is truly beneficial to all parties.

In the end, the events world wants to get back to seeing the people as much as the people want to get back to seeing events. And as a collaborative group we will face the adversities and advantages of this new world together.

MEET YOUR HOST FAMILY

By Leslie Stewart

Harvesting the fields

This year’s International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM) will take place outside of Kemptonville. The competition plowing will be hosted by Rideauside Farms. Charles and Rosemary Bennett are the owners of the property and the host family for the IPM. They farm alongside their son and daughter-in-law, Zachary and Kirstan Bennett.

“Our main enterprise is dairy, and we cash crop,” explains Charles Bennett.

The Bennetts operate a dairy farm. They have 610 holsteins, with 285 milking at all times. They grow corn, soybeans, fall rye and alfalfa.

The farm was originally purchased by Charles’s parents in 1955 when it was 100 acres. Since Charles returned home to farm in 1976, Rideauside Farms has increased to 1,700 acres with 1,400 of that being tillable.

Charles and Rosemary both came from farming backgrounds.

Nathan watches as dad Zac and Grandpa Charles fix a post.

"I've been farming all my life," Charles says. "I've pretty much always known I was going to be a farmer, and it's treated me well. Rosemary married into the farming life, but her family came from agriculture, too."

Zachary and Kirstan, who live nearby, help look after the dairy herd and breeding management. Kirstan handles the human resources and staffing. The Bennetts are joined by eight or nine full- or part-time staff.

Charles says that their farm's prominent positioning along a major artery makes it a great location for the IPM. The farm is 8 KM west of Kemptville on County Rd. 43. They have offered up a large field that's sandy loam with few stones. The family is excited to host the event and has been working hard to cultivate the proper stubble in the field for the plowing match.

"It's going to be exciting," says Charles Bennett. "We've had to change our cropping program and it's going to work out really well."

"We had to make sure there was stubble available to plow, so we planted fall rye, oats, and barley to create some."

After two years without the IPM, Charles is excited to get back to the show and looks forward to seeing everybody.

"It will be interesting to see the people plowing and watching the volunteers."

We look forward to interacting with everybody!"

The land for the Tented City and RV Park is under the management of the Kemptville College Campus Committee and is owned by the Municipality of North Grenville. The IPM would also like to thank Semex who has leased their cropland for their great co-operation.

MESSAGE FROM THE REIGNING ONTARIO QUEEN OF THE FURROW

Hello and welcome to Kemptville in celebration of the 2022 International Plowing Match and Rural Expo (IPM)! I look forward to having you join us in recognition of the vibrant history and culture of the agricultural industry, both here in North Grenville and throughout Ontario. The IPM offers an abundance of exhibits, demonstrations, and competitions, and visitors will enjoy an immersive experience of this beautiful county of North Grenville.

My name is Anna Lennox, and I am honoured to represent the Ontario Plowmen's Association (OPA) as the Ontario Queen of the Furrow. I am equally proud to represent my home county of Grey-Normanby.

Needless to say, I've had a unique experience as Queen of the Furrow. After two long years, with disappointing cancellations of our 2020 and 2021 matches, I'm thrilled to have spent the last few months travelling across the province to promote the IPM & the OPA.

The COVID-19 pandemic certainly challenged us all; as farmers, plowing competitors and event organizers. Nevertheless, the pandemic has demonstrated the way in which we face these challenges head on, with force, fervor and adaptability. The Ontario Plowmen's Association, the IPM Committee, as well as the local, national and global agricultural industry at large, continue to demonstrate incredible resiliency.

This match would not be possible without the dedicated effort of a tremendous number of volunteers, board and committee members, host landowners, sponsors and the local community of North Grenville. During your visit, you'll see for yourself the magnitude of this celebration and the tireless effort required to ensure its success.

I would like to thank all of the competitors for participating and making this a memorable event, and good luck to all of you. Enjoy your time at the International Plowing Match! From the plowing fields to the tented city, it is sure to be a great experience for all.

Anna Lennox, Ontario Queen of the Furrow.

EASTERN ONTARIO'S AG HALL OF FAME FEATURED AT IPM22

William Schouten
(inducted 2006)

Dwayne Acres
(inducted 2010)

Vera Mitchell
(inducted 2010)

Jack James
(inducted 2013)

Four Eastern Ontario ag community leaders of the past and the present all have something in common. Dwayne Acres of Osgoode, Vera Mitchell of Metcalfe, Jack James of Russell, and William Schouten of Richmond are among an impressive list of contributors to Ontario agriculture nominated by their peers and inducted into the Ontario Agricultural Hall of Fame (OAHF).

Support and leadership of community organizations and activities is common among inductees. Their accomplishments include years of involvement in soil and crop associations, producer and livestock organizations, junior farmers and 4-H, community events, cooperatives, research institutes, agricultural extension and more.

The Ontario Agricultural Hall of Fame Association was incorporated in 1979 as a charitable organization. It opened in June 1980 with the induction of nine pioneer agriculturists representing more than 100 years of combined efforts and initiatives in building a better agriculture for the province. To date 245 individuals have been inducted into the OAHF on display in Guelph.

The Ottawa Valley Seed Growers Association (OVSGA) is a proud member of the OAHF and honoured to feature all past Eastern Ontario inductees in a display developed together with the Kemptville College Foundation. This display is in the WB George Building at North Grenville's Kemptville Campus. Featuring these inductees is our way to pay tribute to the outstanding local agricultural leaders who have played a significant role in advancing the agriculture/food industry and improving the quality of life in rural Eastern Ontario.

Watch for the unveiling of a travelling display featuring the 33 OAHF inductees from Eastern Ontario when you visit IPM22. OVSGA volunteers are working hard to build this display to share at agricultural events with fellow agriculturalists. We look forward to featuring this display again when we return to the Ottawa Valley Farm Show at the EY Centre March 14-16, 2023.

Please join us and celebrate the lasting legacies of these outstanding men and women.

OVSGA - 95 YEARS OF AG IN THE VALLEY

The Ottawa Valley Seed Growers Association is the founding organization and host of the annual Ottawa Valley Farm Show. OVSGA is a not-for-profit entity rich in history and with deep valley roots.

In 1927, after the First World War, a group of Ottawa Valley farmers banded together to form the OVSGA to help one another merchandise their field crops. More than 300 exhibits at the first Seed Fair at Renfrew Collegiate were auctioned and shipped by train to their ultimate destinations. Introduction of new and better varieties, merchandizing of increased production, and continual updating of agricultural information were founding Seed Fair objectives and continue to drive the seed show's modern rendition.

The Seed Fair became an annual event, rotating throughout Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, between the home communities of OVSGA presidents. It eventually developed into a Championship Show, with exhibitors competing at county shows for the opportunity to bring entries to the next level. Over time, equipment and trade show components were added, eventually growing the event into the Ottawa Valley Farm Show. In 1959, the Show settled into Lansdowne Park in Ottawa, where it remained until moving in 2012 to its current location each March at Ottawa's EY Centre.

The Ottawa Valley Farm Show proudly boasts its seed show roots, displaying the Court of Honour at the centre of the show. The Court of Honour showcases winning entries of the Ottawa Valley Championship Seed, Feed and Forage Show, along with 4-H field crop and life skills exhibits.

OVSGA is dedicated to the local agricultural community, supporting 4-H and youth activities, seed shows, agricultural education initiatives, future seed and crop judges and research. A scholarship program, now in its 6th year, has presented almost $50,000 to local youth planning to pursue a career in agriculture.

Jeff Waldroff, current OVSGA President and North Stormont dairy farmer, is "proud to work with the dedicated volunteer team of Directors committed to OVSGA and our agricultural community."
